BUILDING; A new building, completed in 2021, in the Bohema – Strefa Praga development. Equipped with modern elevators and underground parking, the building is surrounded by a modern housing estate, abundant greenery, and a children playground. The development is car-free (underground parking lots have direct street access), which improves residents; safety and acoustic comfort in the apartments. BOHEMA – Strefa Praga is a unique urban development that aligns with the revitalization program in Warsaw Praga district. It is being built on the site of the 19th-century Pollena cosmetics factory on Szwedzka Street. Here, residential, commercial, office, and cultural spaces intertwine, creating a new quality of life. Residents will find a wealth of amenities and attractions to enhance their daily lives. Residents will find residential buildings, offices, shops, cafes, service outlets, and entertainment options on the over four-hectare site, while the 19th-century factory building will be given a new lease of life. It will be a publicly accessible space designated for artistic activities, such as concerts, performances, and an outdoor cinema. Numerous squares of diverse character, a wide shopping avenue, and the expansive area surrounding the chimney will soon attract crowds.

TRANSPORT: The new SZWEDZKA metro station and bus stops are located near the development. The city main thoroughfares – Solidarności Avenue and the Żaba Junction – provide quick access to many districts of the city.
